

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

2002 was the Oak Ridges Moraine Land Trust's second full year of operation, and the momentum that we achieved in our first year continued unabated. We secured a further 700 acres in conservation easements, bringing the total of protected moraine land to 1,428 acres since we incorporated three years ago.

Our fundraising and outreach activities, so critical to our ongoing ability to protect land, were once again successful. In 2002, we raised $222,560 in grants, donations and through special events. We have been extremely fortunate in attracting funding from private donors, land owners, foundations, local businesses and corporations. For this we must thank the hardworking members of our board of directors, our volunteers, and our staff.

All of us have a role to play in protecting the environment. With the Oak Ridges Moraine Conservation Act in place, I am often asked why organisations such as ours are still needed. My reply is - just because you install a sprinkler system in a building, you do not cancel the fire insurance. The province, with its recent legislation, has provided a sprinkler system. The Oak Ridges Moraine Land Trust and its partners are here to provide the insurance policy...

LAND, CONSERVATION AND STEWARDSHIP

2002 marked a substantial year of growth for the ORMLT. The Land Committee, headed up by Don Prince, oversaw the securing of 700 acres in conservation easements. Details of the properties conserved to date by the ORMLT are presented at left.

Although a certain portion of funds raised were directed towards land acquisition (e.g., the Secord property), the bulk of the ORMLT's resources were focused on conservation easements, a truly cost effective means of conserving land. Value to cost ratio (land value: securement costs) range as high as 78 to 1.

2002 also marked the first full year of the ORMLT's stewardship and property monitoring activities. As the number of conservation easements and properties held by the land trust continues to grow, this area will increase in importance.

The support of landowners committed to conserving their land has made the work of the Land Trust much easier—as has the support of Environment Canada under the Ecogifts Program. These have been critical elements in the ORMLT's continued growth and success.

FUNDRAISING AND OUTREACH

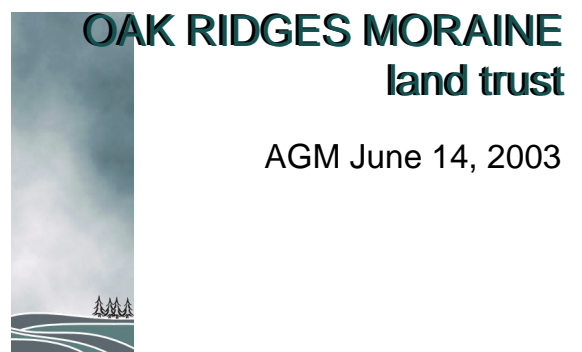

An essential component of the ORMLT's achievements in 2002 has been the continued success of our fundraising and outreach activities.

In addition to grants and funding received from the EJLB Foundation, the City Of Toronto, the George Lunan Foundation, the Regional Municipality Of York, the George Cedric Metcalf Foundation, the Ontario Trillium Foundation, the Federation of Ontario Naturalists, the Fitzhenry Family Foundation and the Toronto Region Conservation Authority, the ORMLT also organised two major fundraising events:

The second annual Walk for the Moraine, co-chaired by Gloria Marsh and Jenifer Roberson, and organised in partnership with the Oak Ridges Trail Association, raised over $15,000 and was deemed a great success by all.

The successful collaboration begun in 2001 with the Conservation Foundation of Greater Toronto continued in 2002 for the 9th Annual Sauriol Dinner, raising over $50,000, shared by the two organisations.

Keeping in touch and having a presence in the community has also been a key measure of our success and outreach. In 2002, ORMLT volunteers staffed our display at over twenty community events, gave powerpoint presentations, and television and radio interviews. Memorandums of understanding with six municipalities across the moraine were also initiated.
